

As the level of water in Ladybower Reservoir rises after heavy rain, it spills over into the bellmouth overflows.